COUNCIL WAGES TAX CONTEST

AERIAL ATTACK DOWNS WESTERN MARYLAND

Springston, Hughes, Banville Play Well; Fail to Gain Through Opponents' Line.

HOLD LOSERS ON ONE-YARD LINE

Playing the first game of the season on a home field, the Blue and Buff last Saturday marched to a 20 to 0 victory over the underrated University of Western Maryland team on a muddy field. The feature of the game was the offensive play of Bailey Springston, who, with Red Scofield, bore the brunt of the ground gaining for the Hatchettes.

Although rather unsuccessful at gaining through the line, the locals showed a marked ability in the open play and in the aerial attack. The Hatchettes made good seven out of sixteen attempts for from 5 to 35 yards, while their opponents were completing four of fourteen of the overhead heaves. The most spectacular pass was one good for 35 yards and a touchdown from Springston to Ptak, who, despite his bad ankle, had gone in for Crouch.

From the opening whistle the Blue and Buff had the advantage. Receiving, with the wind to their backs, the Hatchettes were able to make large gains through an exchange of punts. On the 35-yard line the home boys opened up an attack which the Marylanders were unable to stem. A pass, "Springer" to Crouch, and line plunges by Scofield and Manson put the ball on the 15-yard line, from where Loehler carried it over for the first score on a neat heave from Springston. Loehler kicked the goal.

Hold on 1-Foot Line.

Western Maryland elected to kick again and the Hatchettes, being held for downs, were forced to punt. Loehler's kick was blocked and recovered by a Western Marylander, on the Blue and Buff 15-yard mark, from where it was advanced to the 1-yard line by a pass, which a towering Green and Gold back pulled out of the air, although surrounded by his opponents. Here G. W. showed their fighting spirit by stopping the attack and finally by taking the ball on a fumble. Loehler kicked out of danger, and the quarter ended with the ball on Maryland's 20-yard line.

The second quarter was marked by fumbling of both sides and the only

MAJOR LETTER TO BE AWARDED TO SWIMMERS

Young Re-elected Manager; Seven of Last Year's Team Receive Award.

The Student Council has recommended that Young, Stokes, Koblegard, McEwin, Maitland and Dalquist be awarded major letters in swimming. Young has been elected manager of the swimming team for the coming year and will also act as coach for the present at least. Bryan Morse recommended that a major letter be awarded to members of the team who show exceptional ability or who win points in any big championship meet.

G. W. U. FACULTY CLUB HOLDS INITIAL MEETING

Prof. Grandgent of Harvard Speaks; Prof. Croissant Presides.

Members of the Faculty Club of the G. W. U. enjoyed a detailed analysis of language as the mode of expressing thought given by Prof. Charles H. Grandgent of Harvard University, one of the leading phoneticians of the country, at the first fall meeting of the club, held at its room, 719 Twenty-first Street Northwest, October 4.

Prof. DeWitt C. Croissant presided and Dr. Howard L. Hodgkins, acting president of the University, welcomed back the members of the faculty.

Prof. Grandgent in his talk, entitled "How and Why Speech," outlined the growth of language, indicated the difference in the national characteristics of language, and explained that the sounds made by animals expressed only the emotions, while the phonetic efforts of human beings add the element of reason.

One of the innovations now running is the daily meeting of the members of club at three o'clock for a neutral forum for the discussion of educational problems affecting the school by the faculties of the various schools, Law, Medicine, and Arts and Sciences.

HARD GAME EXPECTED FROM WILLIAM & MARY

Hatchettes Muster Full Strength; Southerners Have Powerful Machine; Result Should Be Close.

William and Mary, one of America's oldest educational institutions, is the host of G. W. U. on the gridiron tomorrow at Norfolk, Va. With Western Maryland's scalp safe on their belts, the Hatchettes are out for blood, and William and Mary can expect to have a battle-royal from the first kickoff to the final whistle.

Realizing that William and Mary has a strong team, the Blue and Buff are going into the game with the greatest strength they can muster. With Ptak recovered from his bad ankle and with Loehler on the other end, the wings of the fighting force are intact. Hughes, who was another member of the hospital corps, is back in action and his presence will strengthen the center of the line materially. Hart is the only member of the eleven that started against Virginia October 1 who is not in physical condition, but with Connolly playing a "bangup" game, his shoes are well filled.

Bryan Morse said that even if G. W. U. does not win tomorrow's game, the team is going into the battle with the intention of fighting, and should William and Mary have the long end of the score at the final whistle they will have it with the knowledge they have faced a fighting FOOTBALL team.

TRAVELERS' FRAT AND MASONS HOLD SMOKER

Pledge Cooperation With Student Activities; Banquet Planned for November 4.

"Big business men will be rallied to the support of G. W. U.," declared Dean Ferson of the Law School in a speech at the smoker and first meeting of the Masonic Club and Travelers' Fraternity in the Travelers' new home, 1432 M Street, the evening of October 8.

The smoker was attended by more than 200 Masons, among them: Merton L. Ferson, dean of the Law School, and David Harper Sibbett, an organizer of Acacia.

The address of welcome was made by Charles M. Frey, president of the Travelers', in which he said: "We are going to work hand in hand with G. W. U. to get all Masons behind the work of the University." His address was followed by speeches by Dean Ferson, Bryan Carson, president of the Masonic Club, and David Harper Sibbett. After expressing the great bond of sympathy existing between Masonry and G. W. U. because of the founder of the University being a Mason, Dean Ferson, who is also an officer of the Masonic Club and an honorary member of the Travelers', said the great interests of G. W. U. would become the interests of the Masonic fraternity, that not only those Masons connected with George Washington, but also the Masonic brothers among the big business men of the city would be rallied into a strong support of the University. President Carson pledged the support of the club to all the activities of the school, and said the club was anxious to welcome into its membership all the Masons in the University.

The Masonic Club was organized in 1913 and now has a membership of over 100, but expects this to be increased to 200 or more within the near future. Its purpose is to promote fellowship and to keep the principles of Masonry ever before its members. The club will meet every third Saturday of the month during the academic year, the first meeting to be held Saturday, October 15, in the Travelers' home, 1432 M Street.

The Travelers' fraternity was organized early this fall and is petitioning for a chapter of the Acacia fraternity, which is an academic college fraternity composed of Masons only.

A banquet is being planned for November 4 by the Masonic Club and Travelers' in celebration of the 169th anniversary of the raising of George Washington to the degree of Master Mason. An effort will be made to bring out to the banquet as many Masons as possible both from the University and city.

LAW JOURNAL MUST WAIT ANOTHER YEAR

Committee Decides School Is Now Unable to Support Publication; May Begin Work Later.

The committee appointed a year ago to investigate the feasibility of publishing a Law Review at George Washington during the past summer completed its work and submitted to the faculty of the Law School its recommendations concerning the project.

The main part of the work was undertaken after a meeting in December of the committee with the faculty, at which meeting the faculty said they would undertake to edit the Law Review if they could be assured there was sufficient financial backing. The committee thereupon undertook to determine what financial backing was available, and in April reported to the faculty their findings, and the faculty found from the report that a probable income of $1,800 had been shown. It was then up to the committee either to raise more funds to come up to the estimates for publishing then in hand or else to get a bid within the amount shown. This last plan was adopted, and a bid sufficiently low was secured. This was shown to the faculty about the 1st of July and Dean Ferson then explained to the committee the situation which prevents the publication of the Review at least for the coming year.

When the faculty in December promised to edit the Review they did not then contemplate any changes in the make-up of the faculty and felt warranted in doing so. However, since then there have been two resignations, Mr. Wilson resigning to accept a position at the Cornell Law School, and Mr. Levitt resigning to accept a position at the Law School of the University of North Dakota. Mr. Van Vleck has, of course, returned, and there have been additions made to the faculty to fill the vacancies caused by the resignations, but in the meantime the schedule for the coming year was made up and it was seen that each member of the faculty would have more than he could satisfactorily handle if other work were imposed, due particularly to the fact that a complete third-year course will be given in the morning.

WOMEN'S SOCIETIES HOSTS TO G. W. FRESHMAN GIRLS

More than 100 freshman girls were entertained at a luncheon on Saturday, October 8, held in the Women's University Club rooms, 2027 G Street Northwest, by the Women's University Club, the Women's Legal Club, and the Sphinx Honor Society. Many upper-class girls also attended.

Miss Sarah Tighman of the Law School was toastmistress. Urging interest in studies, social activities, and sports, Miss Tighman pointed out that by putting into college life the best they have, girls will in turn reap the maximum amount of benefit and pleasure from it.

Sponsors from several departments of the University spoke of the work in their respective departments, advising freshman girls as to the most desirable courses to pursue. The sponsors were Martha McGrew, Law; Rose Kilian, Columbian; Olive Prescott, Engineering; and Miss Nicholls, Teachers College. Cheering and song practice followed the luncheon.

SIX PRIZES TOTALING $100 GIVE IMPETUS TO STUDENTS' WORK

LAW ALUMNUS IN PRIZE YELL CONTEST

Sokolov Submits Work of Three Years; Gives Royalty to G. W. U.; McCaslin Uses Yells.

Harry E. Sokolov, Law '21, is the author of the first song to be received by The Hatchet in response to the appeal of the Student Council for G. W. songs and yells. Although a graduate of the University, Sokolov beat all the students now attending the University when he submitted words and music of a song which he has finished writing after three years' effort.

Prizes for the best yells and songs have been offered by the Student Council and the competition is being conducted by Ralph Nagle, of the Council. The Hatchet will receive all yells and songs, print them if space is available, and then submit them to Nagle. W. W. McCaslin, G. W. U. cheer leader, has promised to introduce every yell or song received at the home football games.

Sokolov first introduced his song last spring at the annual May masquerade ball, where it was sung by more than 1,200 G. W. students and their friends, and when he heard of the competition conducted by the Student Council he submitted his song. Sokolov led one of the orchestras at the May masquerade carnival and also led the orchestra which played on the steamer "St. Johns" last summer.

He has announced that the song will be placed on sale and he has devoted 25 per cent of the profits to the Student Activity Fund. The words of the song:

The team is out to bring the school to victory today.
They're out for fame and glory and they're sure to win the fray;
They're out to make our rivals fall before the Buff and Blue,

Chorus—
For when Old G. Double U. is losing
And they are far from victory
For miles around our cheering will resound.
The team will hear our plea
Then our backs will circle round the end
Our line will plunge straight through
Amid the cheers and the din
The Buff and Blue will win
We'll have a touchdown for G. Double U.

PLAN STUDENT ORCHESTRA AS AN AID TO GLEE CLUB

King-Smith Sought as Director; Early Concerts Planned.

Organization of an orchestra of George Washington University students was among the plans of the Glee Club for the coming year, announced by Robert Colflesh, president of the club, last night. Eighty students will be needed if the plans outlined are to be realized, Colflesh said.

Need of a student orchestra to cooperate with the Glee Club at its concerts was pointed out by Colflesh, who said that such an organization would have added to the success of the Glee Club concerts given last year and would have reduced expenses by eliminating the need of hiring an orchestra. The Glee Club held the first meeting of the year in the chapel of Lisner Hall last night, and instructed a committee to attempt to secure the services of Mr. King-Smith, who was director last year, to again supervise the work of the club. Several concerts will be scheduled before Christmas if enough men qualify for the club, it was said. Candidates should report to Colflesh or Irving Cleveland, manager of the club.

TO LIST FETES.

Preparation of a social calendar, which will contain all the functions scheduled for the University year, is in charge of Glenn Corbett, chairman of the social committee of the Student Council, Robert N. Anderson, president of the council, announced last night.

"Tax Must Be Successful To Support All Activities," Says Bryan Morse.

At the meeting of the Student Council last Tuesday it was reported only slightly more than 25 per cent of the student body had subscribed to the student activity tax.

Bryan Morse, the director of student activities, stated that unless 1,000 signers to the tax are obtained before the first of the month, he would have to greatly curtail the program for athletics, as well as the programs of other student activities. He further stated that if the money was forthcoming he expected to be able to support teams at George Washington second to none in the country.

To accomplish this, the Student Council offers six prizes totaling $100 to the individual students who obtain the most signers to the tax between the 15th and 30th of the present month. The first prize will amount to $50, the second will be $25, the third $15, and three prizes of $5 each.

Any student who is attending either the day or night classes at the University is eligible to compete for these prizes. A freshman has just as much chance as the senior, and a lively contest is assured. A publicity board will be posted in the main halls, showing the standing of each contestant.

Only blanks signed between the 15th and 30th of the month will be counted in the contest. Tax blanks may be obtained from any member of the Student Council, from the Registrar's office, or from Bryan Morse. Mr. Morse will supply any additional information to prospective candidates.

To date, the council has announced only 930 blanks have been signed. There are about 3,345 students in the University, so the signers represent only about 28 per cent of the total registration. The percentage of signers in the various colleges are as follows:

Medical	64%
Arts and Sciences	31%
Law	25%
Pharmacy	20%

This is an opportunity to do something for the school, as well as an opportunity to secure a handsome amount of cold hard cash for a little easy work.

UTAH LEGAL STUDENTS ORGANIZE NEW CLUB

Law students from the "Beehive" State met at the Law School Tuesday evening, October 4, and organized a legal club. The meeting was addressed by Dean Ferson, who pointed out the desirability of perfecting such an organization and assuring the members that the school would extend all possible aid and encouragement to such an undertaking.

It will be the purpose of the club to cooperate with other student body organizations for the effective general advancement of the interests of the school. Special attention will be given to the organization of the alumni of Utah and to placing before the people of the State the name of the George Washington University Law School as one of the leading law schools of the country.

A business meeting will be held once a month and will be devoted to a systematic study of the code and statutes and important decisions of Utah under the able direction of some of the State's most noted jurists who are assigned to important posts in Washington.

The following officers to serve for a term of one year were elected: Vernon Romney, president; H. G. Hinckley, vice president; Parley F. Eccles, secretary; K. C. Parkinson, Treasurer.

50 MORE IN GRAD SCHOOL.

Thirty per cent increase in the enrollment of the School of Graduate Studies was announced by Dean Henning last night. Enrollment in this department totals 180 students, as compared to 130 of last year.

The New Tax Campaign

In order to facilitate the signing of the activity tax blanks and make possible the carrying on of student activities in George Washington University, the Student Council will begin an intensive campaign for signers based on the contested activity of individual students. Goals are offered to students who successfully secure the greatest of signers in the amounts of $50, $25, $10, $5, $5, and $5. Every student in the University is eligible to enter in this contest to solicit signers for the tax, but no Student Council member is allowed to receive one of these awards. This new campaign is started as the most feasible method of procuring the 2,500 students necessary to sign the tax.

This is the crucial year in George Washington's existence. The first hundred years are the hardest, and we have passed them by dint of patient striving. In the first year of the second century we must put out athletic teams of the best calibre in order that our University may become known the country over for other than scholastic standards. If we fail to sign the tax this year it will be considered a failure, and we must either be content to let our athletics die because of lack of funds or formulate an entirely new method of accruing money for the expenditures of our teams. What other method could we employ? What other means would be cheaper and more convenient to the individual student than that which we now have?

We take for granted that all elder classmen in George Washington have signed this tax, because we believe their experience in college work has taught them that the more they put into a thing the more they get out of it. We believe they are signing because by doing so they realize they are making this a larger University and thus make their work and association here more valuable. It is the new students here that we are after, and we want to whisper to them this secret: That whatever you may pledge yourselves to during this, your first year at George Washington University, there is nothing that will mean as much to you as being pledged to the Student Activity Tax.

Classes Plus Campus

Support of G. W. U. activities by students enrolled in the evening classes will be a deciding factor in the progress of the University this year. If the support is no more general than it has been in the past, the advancement of the University at the start of its second century will be shameful compared with what might be.

Eighty per cent of our total enrollment are evening-class students, so it is but natural that that group should be largely responsible for furtherance of activities. George Washington University was the first to inaugurate part time courses, according to a recent statement of our acting president, and may the evening students realize that they have not only opportunity to learn in the classroom, but also to grow on the campus.

Personal support of an activity or activities is the most effective way of securing benefits for the individual and the school. Thrills that come when triumph rewards earnest team work repays the oldest of our classmates as well as the ambitious frosh.

But if personal work is impossible, personal interest and financial assistance of favorite activities will prove good substitutes. Constructive criticism and signed student activity blanks will support those who can give the time for which others are paid.

Let the evening-class man and woman invest their interest and money in the advancement of their Alma Mater, and they will grasp school spirit as well as secure an unusual material return on the investment.

Campaign Needed

Evidently in the University there are many students who do not appreciate a good bargain or are too indifferent to take advantage of it. For the purpose of showing these indifferent students the advantages of signing and paying for the voluntary student activities tax a clean-up campaign should be conducted in the next few days by the tax supervisors. Unfortunately, the students were allowed to register without being required to fill out the activity card and indicate whether or not they wished to sign the promise to pay the ten dollars, as was done last year. Because of this many students have been overlooked and have not signed who would otherwise have done so. Now, it is necessary to have 2,500 subscribers in order that the student activities of athletics and publications may be carried on to greater success in this school year.

To expedite this drive, those who have already signed should be given a button to indicate this fact, and then the tax supervisors and their assistants should interview everyone without a button. This could be done systematically by placing one or more assistant tax supervisors in each classroom and making them responsible for the interviewing of all those in that class. Teams could be formed of these assistants, thus developing friendly rivalry between the collectors. To make this campaign a total success many assistants will be needed. Those who can lend their aid will be doing the school a big service if they will see some member of the Student Council and then interview everyone without a button. LET'S GO.

Discouraging as the outlook for the general student tax campaign may be, there is always a bright spot. CONSULT PROF. ON ART SAYS CITY ARCHITECT Architectural Club Organizes; Presidency to Nutt; Addressed by Harris.

Charles Nutt was unanimously elected president of the Architectural Club at the first meeting of the year, October 11. Miss Leota Soars was elected vice president, while Miss Louise Strothers and Mr. Anderson were made secretary and treasurer, respectively.

A. L. Harris, municipal architect, one-time professor in architecture at this University, made a brief address in which he outlined a plan for closer cooperation between professor and students in working out their beaux-arts problems, resulting in benefit to both, but particularly to the professor, whose labors it would considerably lighten.

Prof. Partridge told of the pleasure he derived from aiding the students in their individual problems, but warned them that he "was a horse for work." The Architectural Club exists not only for mutual benefit to the students through general discussion of their problems and lectures by men prominent in architecture or allied subjects, but is also a reason for having many good times together, aided by dances, entertainments and occasional theater parties, speakers of the evening explained.

MANY CHANGES IN CLASSES ARE MADE

New Courses Added Since Publication of 1921 Catalogue.

A number of changes in the schedule for the Arts and Sciences Department have been made since the publication of the latest catalogue.

The new Domestic Science Department in charge of Miss Margaret B. Evans has proved to be so popular it has been necessary to divide the class and have an extra laboratory session on Tuesday and Thursday, in addition to the regular Monday and Wednesday periods.

A class in vital statistics has been organized which meets from 7.30 to 9 on Tuesday and Thursday evenings and is under the direction of Mr. Edgar Sydenstricker, a specialist in vital statistics from the Public Health Service.

Mr. Gregory Hankin is giving a seminar in philosophy dealing with the subject of Freedom. The class meets for conference at 7 p. m. on Wednesday.

Professor Robert F. Griggs, who has been added to the faculty this year, is commencing a course in Botany for advanced undergraduates.

Dr. Brigham is teaching the class in History and Appreciation of Painting which meets at 5.10 on Wednesday and Friday.

The following changes in the Economics courses have been made:

Economics I under Assistant Professor Sutton has been divided into three sections, meeting on Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 9.15 and 11.15 and on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday at 11.15.

Economics 29, Money and Banking, the first term, and Economics 30, Public Finance, the second term, will be given under Professor Kern at 11.15 on Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Economics 31, Principles of Accounting, is scheduled under Assistant Professor Sutton, the class meeting at 9.15 on Tuesday and Thursday, with a laboratory period on Saturday, 9.15 to 11.45.

Assistant Professor Sutton's class in Foreign Trade meets on Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 11.15.

TRACK ASSISTANT MANAGERS APPOINTED

Ralph Holt and Benjamin Willis have been appointed assistant managers of basketball for the coming season. A number of applications for assistant managers of track and football have been received, but no appointments have been made yet. Any student who wants to try out for these positions should put in his application at once. Those who have had experience are especially wanted, but if you have had none, come out anyway.

adding twelve hours of teaching to the already heavy schedule.

Mr. Van Vleck was then chosen by the Dean to supervise the work if undertaken, but in a frank discussion with the committee it was perfectly obvious that unless other additions were made to the faculty or unless the schedule were changed to give him more time, it would be utter folly to undertake the work.

outstanding feature was a 25-yard pass, Springston to Loehler, and the alertness of Banville, husky Blue and Buff center, who recovered a fumble and intercepted a Maryland pass. The half ended with the ball well in Western Maryland territory.

The third quarter was a repetition of the second, the Hatchettes having slightly the better of the argument. The whistle blew with the ball resting in G. W. territory.

The final period began with Quigley's men fighting desperately for a touchdown. Loehler kicked to Maryland's 1-yard line and with Western Maryland holding the ball on their 20-yard line Hughes, who is recovering from an injury received in the Virginia game, went in for Banville at center and made way for the second score by smashing through and blocking Maryland's attempted kick and recovering the ball. Springston put the ball 15 yards nearer the goal on a crisscross and later carried it over the line off tackle. Hughes added the extra point.

The final score of the game came with but a few minutes left to play on a long, well-directed heave from Springston to Ptak. After the final kickoff Springston, who was easily the individual star of the game, circled end for 20 yards and the game ended with the ball in midfield.

FRATERNITY MEDAL AWARDED UNDERWOOD

Chosen As One Who For Two Years Has Done Most To Further Student Activities and University Interest.

In order to further the interest in student activities, the Delta Tau Delta Fraternity annually offers to the student body a gold medal to be won by that student who in a period of two years, has performed the most meritorious service in the furtherance of student activities. The selection will rest with a board of managers chosen by the University.

Last May the board of managers met, and in convention assembled selected the medal winner. Their selection fell upon Eugene Underwood, a senior in the University. The presentation was private, however, and was attended by very few persons. Mr. J. Foster Hagan officiated and formally presented Mr. Eugene Underwood with the medal on behalf of the Delta Tau Delta Fraternity. The medal was a gold one, not much larger than a quarter, with the seal of the University on its face and with an inscription on the border stating that it was the Delta Tau Delta Activity Medal, also the date of presentation. The reverse side contained an appropriate inscription, along with the name and the nature of the award.

This is one of the valued prizes of the University and does much to stimulate the interest of the student body in all the various activities into which the University enters. The medal is awarded every year to a student selected by a board of managers, and is generally awarded about June first. No student is eligible who has already received one such medal, and in choosing the recipient the board of managers takes into consideration the previous record of eligible students and the permanent good the service shall have upon student activities.

CHI OMEGA ALUMNAE FEED ACTIVE CHAPTER

The alumnae chapter of the Chi Omega fraternity entertained the active chapter at a dinner party in the rooms at 2024 G Street on Tuesday evening, October 4, in celebration of the Fall Eleusinia.

The rooms have recently been refurnished, and the dining room has been done in orange and black, which made the place cards, miniature car-stop signs, most appropriate and unique. On each table stood a tall "go stop" traffic regulator, a perfect reproduction of the real thing. The place cards and all decorations were made by Miss Katherine Summy, teacher of art at Central High School and a member of the alumnae chapter.

Miss Theodosia Seibold, president of the alumnae chapter, made all arrangements for the party and engineered affairs with the result that the celebration was the most enjoyable one held in many years.

HATCHET REPORTERS TO BE PICKED ON MERITS

Forty Seek Staff Positions; Selections To Be Made in November.

Assignments to the staff of The University Hatchet are to be based on a merit system, according to a statement made by Melville Walker, editor in chief, before the class in journalism on Friday, October 7.

"It will be a matter of the survival of the fittest, for nearly 40 candidates have entered the competition, which will continue for five weeks. At the end of that period those who have displayed industry, enthusiasm and ability will be retained on the staff."

It will not be safe to predict too far ahead the success of The Hatchet, but our ultimate aim is to make it a real live semi-weekly college publication.

PRESS ASSOCIATION TO BE FORMED AT G. W.

Plans for a press club to advertise the University, to give its numerous activities fuller publicity, and more closely unite the news-gathering facilities among the colleges is under way.

This association will thus perform two very important duties: It will make G. W. U. greater from without, by increasing its fame among the possible college students of the future, and it will further a growth of unified spirit among the present 5,000 students enrolled.

The committee is composed of Bryan Morse, Director of Student Activities and head of the publicity department; Prof. Chace, head of the journalism class, and Melville Walker, editor of The Hatchet. Members of the association will be chosen from time to time from The Hatchet staff and other interested in school activities.

Among the Fraternities

KAPPA ALPHA.

Alpha Nu chapter has begun the school year with a series of social events for the rush men. Among these are dances given at the house on the following dates: September 28, October 5 and October 13, all of which occasions were up to the K. A. standard for a good time. Several enjoyable stag affairs were given also, such as a smoker on September 30 and October 8, supplemented by a theater party on the first. The chapter has also given several buffet suppers on Sunday evenings following the regular meetings.

SIGMA NU.

Sigma Nu opened the "rushing season" with two smokers and two dances, held September 29 and October 3, and September 30 and October 4, respectively, all of which were very successful. Speakers for the two smokers included Congressman Sanders of Texas, Prof. Robert Bolwell, Delta Zeta, and Mr. A. Trumbull, Lambda.

"Dusty" Rhoades, Eta; Wm. Jones, Beta Iota; and Leo Terry, Delta Pi, are taking post-graduate work at the University this year. George Buckheiser, Delta Phi, has also registered for some work.

SIGMA PHI EPSILON.

Sigma Phi Epsilon will hold an open house on Sunday, from 4 to 7 p. m., at its chapter house, 1829 Nineteenth Street Northwest. All students of George Washington are invited to attend.

The second smoker was held Saturday night, October 8. Del Fuqua rendered some selections on the violin. Henry Krugar sang and Herman Fast read some entertaining selections.

The chapter wishes to announce the marriage of Albert Austin Spear to Miss Eleanor Hunt.

NEW FRATERNITY ORGANIZED.

Kappa Tau Omega was organized February 16, 1921, by a group of G. W. U. students representing different departments of the University. The charter members are Ronald N. Marquis, Columbian College; William H. Geisler, Medical College; James E. Stevens, Law School; and Homer Kirby, Law School. This fraternity was approved by the Board of Managers of the University and the Director of Student Activities on May 13, 1921. It is felt there is a need for additional fraternities at George Washington, and it is believed Kappa Tau Omega will, in part, meet this need. Mr. Walter Kirby of the Engineering College has been pledged.

PHI MU.

Alice Barksdale and Evelyn Jones attended the national convention of Phi Mu Sorority at Asheville, N. C. Thursday afternoon; October 6. Beta Alpha Chapter held a successful tea in the chapter room; and on October 8 the chapter gave a formal dance at the La Fayette Hotel.

SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON.

On October 2 a house warming was held at its new home, 3220 Sixteenth Street, and on October 9 the first dance of the season was given.

Adams Pease, Stutz, Longstreet,

Wolford, Galloway, Bradley, Hancock, and Thomas, all men from other chapters of the fraternity, are now staying at the chapter house.

Les Young, Newell, Ellison, and Harry Campaign have just been admitted to practice in the courts of the District of Columbia.

SIGMA CHI.

The chapter held its second smoker of the scholastic year last Monday evening. The first dance was given last Saturday evening with about 50 guests present.

Several LABOR DAYS are staring the newly acquired "goats" in the face, and great results are expected.

CHI OMEGA.

Phi Alpha chapter of the Chi Omega fraternity entertained at a house party at the Y. W. C. A. lodge in Cherrydale, Va., on September 30, October 1 and 2. The guests were Beatrice Henning, Dorothea Stephens, Gertrude Rinebold, Virginia Dieder, Carmen Mayer, Mary Ruthven, Martha Fahlbusch, Helen Periam, and Hazel Price.

The hostesses included a number of alumnae and out-of-town Chi Omegas, as well as the girls of the active chapter. Mrs. Gilbert, Y. W. C. A. secretary, acted as chaperon. The lodge is a beautiful place, well located, and ideally adapted for entertaining.

KAPPA SIGMA.

The first dance of the year was held and was well attended by active men and alumni. A smoker was held at the chapter house Saturday night. Dean Ferson favored the chapter with his presence and gave an interesting talk on the problems of the University. "Scrappy" Taylor, '07, reminisced over the G. W. of a decade ago.

PHI ALPHA.

Still at its same home, 1872 California Street, Phi Alpha has again resumed its active work for the season '21-22 and all indications point to a very successful year.

On Friday, September 30, Dave Davis, A. B., '18, and now of Johns Hopkins, turned the entire "Chevy Chase Lake" over to the chapter for a closed dance, which proved to be a complete success.

Maurice Berkman, just back from New York, has again resumed his study at the U.

PHI SIGMA KAPPA.

The last of the informal summer dances was held at the chapter house on Saturday, September 24. The chapter regrets the loss of Brothers Harvey and Hornaday, who have entered the University of Pennsylvania.

Brothers Johnson, Tyler, Ellis, Jackson, Zimmerman, Clarke, and Brandes journeyed with the team to the University of Virginia game and were given a fine welcome by the chapter there. A very successful rush smoker was held at the house on Saturday, October 1.

KAPPA ALPHA.

A smoker with plenty of smokes and hot dogs was held at the house on the evening of September 28. Brother Busch helped to make the evening an enjoyable one with his saxophone, accompanied by Brother Espey on the piano. Brother Key-Smith, one of the founders of the chapter, was with us on this occasion.

Alpha Nu welcomes Brother Hough of Alpha Rho and Brother Busch of Beta Theta, who will be with us during the year.

Brother Platt of Beta Gamma and Brother Martin of Zeta have affiliated with the chapter for the coming year.

THETA DELTA CHI.

Mrs. William Allen Wilbur and granddaughter visited the charge house last Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mixer and a number of graduates were guests of Chi Deuteron charge at the opening fall dance, held at the house last Saturday.

Janney Nichols, Chi Deuteron '20, has been a frequent visitor at the charge house since his return from the South.

SIGMA PHI EPSILON.

The first social function of the chapter was a smoker Saturday night, October 1. After a few terpsichorean antics in the way of clog and soft-shoe dancing and some vivid take-offs on the Georgetown student, along with some harmonizing syncopations by the Sig-Ep quartette, doughnuts and cider were enjoyed.

Brother Verne Simmons is back and takes his place in the ranks of G. W. Brother Jack Smallwood from University of California has affiliated with this chapter.

Recent visitors at the house have been Brothers Vance from University of Pennsylvania and Deal from North Carolina.

HEARD THROUGHOUT THE COLLEGIATE WORLD

Seven of last season's letter men from the University of Kansas will coach athletics in different high schools and colleges throughout the State this fall.

Football in the Pacific coast conference hopes to maintain the prestige it established over the Middle West last year by California's overwhelming defeat of Ohio State, obtaining thereby the western conference championship.

A committee of college presidents and professors is to be one of the major groups to assist in the work of the Woodrow Wilson Foundation, according to announcement made by Hamilton Holt, executive director of the foundation. It is the hope of the organization to rally to its support the largest possible body of college graduates and undergraduates. The purpose of the foundation is to honor and perpetuate the national and international ideals of Mr. Wilson.

Eighty-three former students of the University of Kansas are now engaged as missionaries and foreign welfare workers.

A total of 767 different courses will be given in the 76 departments of the University of Wisconsin during the fall semester. Within these courses there will be 1,478 sections or individual classes.

The schools of Alaska cooperated with the schools of the "States" in the celebration of "Constitution Day," September 17, according to a bulletin from the Alaska Territorial Department of Education in Juneau, Alaska.

The New Kansas School of Religion will open this fall. A complete curriculum has been arranged and a total of six courses will be offered the first semester.

Night labor is being used to complete the six sections of the stadium at the University of Kansas for the Kansas-Missouri game on Thanksgiving Day. Heavy rains have halted the work so that extra time is necessary. Lights have been provided and extra labor secured to carry on the work after dark.

Carnegie Tech welcomed its plebes on Friday, September 16. One event of the evening was a midnight pajama parade conducted by the sophs. The unwilling plebes were routed from their beds and herded into line. The victims, clad in nightshirts or pajamas of various hues, were dragged around to the girls' dorms, where they insisted upon standing under the windows and singing joyfully, "How Dry I Am." This selection met with such universal disapproval that the plebes' feelings were quite dampened—nay, even soaked.
